DSV Named NAWIC's "Company of the Year for 2010"

On April 27, 2010, during the 50th Anniversary Celebration and annual Construction Industry Appreciation Night, the Indianapolis Chapter of NAWIC, the National Association of Women in Construction, named Drewry Simmons Vornehm, LLP as the "Company of the Year for 2010".

NAWIC is a national non-profit association that promotes and supports the advancement and employment of women in the construction industry. Each year the Indianapolis Chapter of NAWIC bestows this honorary award on a company based on its exemplary support for and involvement with NAWIC as well as its support of its employees in their personal and professional growth within the construction industry and its philanthropic commitments and contributions to the local community.

DSV concentrates its practice in assisting those companies, entities, and individuals who are involved in the construction industry, including contractors, subcontractors, suppliers, architects, engineers, owners, and insurers. DSV has supported the Indianapolis Chapter of NAWIC with sponsorship, volunteer time, participation on the Board of Directors and various committees, educational seminars on topics affecting the construction industry, and contributions to NAWIC's philanthropic events and endeavors. Two attorneys from DSV, Jayme Donnelson and Shelley McCoy, currently serve on the Board of Directors for the Indianapolis Chapter of NAWIC.

DSV is honored to be named NAWIC's "Company of the Year for 2010", and DSV is proud to be an active member, sponsor and supporter for dynamic and diverse groups serving the construction industry, such as NAWIC.
